1. Our organisation

Our organisation

We are the Environment Agency. We work to protect and improve the environment and create better, safer places for people and wildlife. We:

- protect and improve the quality of water, making sure there is enough for people, businesses, agriculture and the environment
- fight environmental crime
- work closely with businesses (such as those in the waste industry) to help them comply with environmental regulations
- reduce the risks to people, properties and businesses from flooding and coastal erosion

Our work helps to ensure people can enjoy the water environment through angling and navigation and we also look after land quality, promote sustainable land management and help protect and enhance wildlife habitats.

Of course, none of this will be possible without the professionalism and dedication of our staff. We work with government, local councils, businesses, civil society groups and communities to make our environment a better place for people and wildlife. As a public body we are committed to promoting equality and diversity in all we do and valuing the diversity of our workforce, customers and communities.

We're committed to helping our people find new ways of working to maintain our focus on creating a better place for people and wildlife. For more information on the Environment Agency and what we do, please visit: www.environment-agency.gov.uk/aboutus

2. The role

As an Environmental Crime Officer within the Environment Agency's Prevention and Disruption Team, you will be responsible for tackling illegal activity through early upstream interventions. This might be acting to stop illegal waste sites, the mis-description of waste or the illegal export of waste. You will be required to visit a variety of sites both urban and rural in order to implement disruption tactics and stop offending. Your actions will help create a cleaner, safer and healthier environment as well as a level playing field for legitimate operators.

The team is part of our National Enforcement Service which provides support to area teams through several disciplines including major investigations, intelligence and prevention and disruption.

Our national remit means we are responsible for tackling priority offenders and their networks across the country but we also work with Area Enforcement Teams to agree disruption strategies for offenders operating at a local level.

You'll be required to make frequent and sometimes unscheduled travel to sites cross the country - we'll provide you with a lease car but you must have a full UK driving licence.

What skills do you need?

As an Environmental Crime Officer you will be self-motivated with a 'can do' attitude. You will need to be able to:

- organise your workload
- build strong relationships with a diverse range of people
- adapt your behaviour and communication style to different people and situations
- integrate into a team, support and look out for your colleagues
- work independently when required
- solve problems and take the initiative
- record information and data accurately on a variety of systems and databases to support team activities.
- demonstrate strong health, safety and wellbeing principles

Top capabilities

As part of the application and interview processes, we'll be looking for you to tell us how you:

- achieve results
- build and sustain relationships
- detect and enforce illegal activity
- communicate effectively
- focus on efficiency, innovation and quality
- take decisions and solve problems

Please refer to the Top Capabilities document (attached to the vacancy) that describes our capability framework in further detail. The How to Apply section (section 6 below) provides advice on how to complete your application.

What experience do you need?

Some intelligence-led enforcement experience is necessary. You'll need a depth of knowledge that enables you to work authoritatively within a regulatory or operational environment so experience of customer-facing roles is necessary.

Whatever your background, you'll be interested in the environmental sector and have a desire to make a better place for people.

What qualifications and knowledge do you need?

We are not seeking formal educational qualifications for this role however you will need to be articulate both in a verbal and written context and have the right personal characteristics.

Some knowledge of the legislation surrounding environmental enforcement and handling sensitive data would be of real benefit but is not essential. Training will be offered in these areas both formally and on the job.

What else do you need to know?

- The role is within a dispersed team so there will be occasions where you will need to travel or have overnight stays.
- Team members are aligned to one of three hubs across the country: North, West and South & East. You will be expected to work from an office location within the hub you are aligned to.
- The National Enforcement Service has a hub in Solihull and you will be required to travel to this office occasionally.
- Many people within the Environment Agency support our incident management response (such as responding to flooding). Full training is provided for this and you will be invited to find an incident role that suits should you wish to do so.

3. Training and development

You will receive a mixture of development opportunities including e-learning and on-the-job training especially during your first six months probationary period.

Your learning and development doesn't stop once you have completed your probation; we continue to invest in ensuring you have the right skills to do your job by offering modular based development programmes linked to your role. With a strong focus on Continued Professional Development, you will be encouraged to take up to ten days every year to work on your own development. This could range from formal training to a shadowing opportunity in another department to attendance at a conference or being a mentor.

This strong emphasis on Continued Professional Development will include identifying your own opportunities as well as those for your team.

What will the initial training cover?

Typically the first six months will cover;

- an introduction to the Environment Agency and how we do things
- bespoke HR systems
- health, safety and wellbeing
- legislation and regulation
- enforcement and warranting

What will I achieve?

The training is all geared towards developing the ability to do something whilst actually doing it! Therefore the training process provides you with the opportunity to apply your acquired knowledge and demonstrate competence. The aim is to get you working comfortably as part of a team as soon as possible.

4. Salary and benefits

Starting salary:	£27,138 per annum. We also offer a salary bonus scheme that is linked to your performance throughout the year.
Hours of work:	37 hours (pro rata if part time)
Leave entitlement:	Your annual leave allowance will be 25 days (pro rata if part time) plus bank holidays. This increases to 30 days with length of service. We also offer up to two days paid environmental outcome days each year. These give you the opportunity to take part in community activities with a clear environmental outcome for people and wildlife.
Pension:	We will enrol you into the Environment Agency Pension Fund (EAPF) on commencing employment. The EAPF is part of the Local Government Pension Scheme (LGPS). It is a career average defined benefits scheme, which means you will build up benefits based on your pay each year. We will base your pension contributions on your pensionable pay and you will receive tax and national insurance relief on your contributions. You will begin by contributing 6.5% of your pensionable pay. Whilst you are in the scheme we will also pay an employer contribution into your pension pot. We currently pay 18.5%, so this is a very generous scheme.
Work/life balance:	We support flexible working hours and practices to help you strike a good balance between your work life and your personal life. We will also encourage you to keep developing your skills and professional knowledge throughout your career.
Diversity:	We are committed to diversity and inclusion. We want all our staff to feel valued and respected and to see this as a great place to work. Diversity: it's in our nature.

5. Further information

We are fully committed to having an inclusive workforce to reflect the communities we serve. We welcome applications from candidates seeking flexible working patterns, including part time and job share.

Please note that Environment Agency employees are not civil servants, so you may wish to check your eligibility for continuity of employment by contacting your HR department. All eligible bodies are listed in the Redundancy Payments (Continuity of Employment in Local Government etc.) (Modification) Order 1999.

Employment agency workers and contractors are considered to be external candidates and should therefore only apply for positions that are being advertised externally. They are also not eligible to claim continuity of employment should they be successful in securing a position with the Environment Agency.

Please note all successful applicants must undergo Baseline Personnel Security Standard (BPSS) checks prior to commencement of employment. This includes a basic criminal records check.

6. How to apply

We use an online recruitment system. To make the application process simple and straightforward, and so that you know how it works and what we need from you, we've put together a few hints and tips.

The first thing you need to do is sign up to our online recruitment system. You'll need a valid e-mail address to log in and apply for jobs, as all communication from us will be via e-mail. You can do this via the vacancy you are interested in by selecting 'Apply' at the bottom of the advert. Once you've clicked this link you'll then be asked:

1. Do you have the right to live and work in the UK? – please answer 'yes' or 'no'
2. Do you have the required qualifications or equivalent experience, which were stated in the job advert? – we are not seeking any specific qualifications or experience for this role, so please answer 'yes' to this question
3. Are you currently an employee of this organisation? – please answer 'yes' or 'no'

You'll then see the 'Register' page. Simply complete the details and select 'Submit Registration' and register to the system. You only need to sign up to the system once; you'll just be able to login next time. You can then carry on with your application.

When it comes to the actual application, you need to fill out each section. Please be aware that the system will automatically time out if you are inactive for more than 60 minutes. This will result in any unsaved information being lost, so please make sure you save what you are doing regularly. Once you've finished, your details and information will be saved on the system for any future applications – of course, you can edit your details at any point.

When you apply to the Environment Agency for a job we will ask you to provide your personal data on our application form. We need this information so that we can establish your identity and your right to work in the UK. You can read our Data Protection Statement on the application process page of our recruitment system. It is also available for reference on each page of the actual application.

Capability questions

We're keen to know what makes you right for the job you're applying for and why we should invite you for an interview. The capability questions are your chance to convince us! You should demonstrate how your skills, qualities and experience meet the requirements of the job (as described in the job advert and this candidate pack). Instead of simply telling us, show us: use real life examples of where you've used a certain skill or how you've practically applied your experience.

There's a 250 word limit per question. It's a crucial part of the selection process so make sure you dedicate plenty of time to completing this part of the application form. Think about what we need to know about you and what you'd bring to the role and our organisation.

How to prepare your answers for a capability based application

Capabilities are high level descriptions of key behaviours, skills and knowledge that underpin effective performance. They are the behaviours, skills and knowledge employees must have, or must acquire, to achieve high levels of performance. Please refer to the Top Capabilities document (attached to the vacancy) that describes our capability framework in further detail.

Capability questions target a specific skill, so we will be looking for some key components in your answer:

- an indication that you understand the importance of that capability to the role for which you have applied
- evidence that you understand the fundamental skills associated with that capability
- an example that highlights your possession of that capability
- an awareness from you of how the critical skills will be used to good effect in the new role

The STAR approach

STAR stands for:

- Situation
- Task
- Action
- Result

The STAR approach is a universally-recognised communication technique designed to enable you to provide a meaningful and complete answer to questions asking for examples and it has the advantage of being simple.

Step 1 – Situation or Task

Describe the situation that you were confronted with or the task that needed to be accomplished. With the STAR approach you need to set the context. Make it concise and informative, concentrating solely on what is useful to the story. For example, if the question is asking you to describe a situation where you had to deal with a difficult person, explain how you came to meet that person and why they were being difficult. If the question is asking for an example of teamwork, explain the task that you had to undertake as a team.

Step 2 – Action

This is the most important section of the STAR approach as it is where you will need to demonstrate and highlight the skills and personal attributes that the question is testing. Now that you have set the context of your story, you need to explain what you did. In doing so, you will need to remember the following:

1. Talk about yourself, not the rest of the team
2. Go into detail
3. Steer clear of technical information, unless it is crucial to your story
4. Explain what you did, how you did it, and why you did it

What, how and why

When we shortlist your application, we would like to know how you reacted to the situation. This is where you can start selling your skills. For example, you may want to describe how you used the team to achieve what you wanted and how you used your communication skills to keep everyone updated on progress, etc.

This is probably the most crucial part of your answer. We want to know that you are using a variety of transferrable skills in order to achieve your objectives. You must be able to demonstrate in your answer that you took specific actions because you were trying to achieve what you wanted, and that things didn't happen simply by chance.

When discussing a situation where you had to deal with conflict, a good answer might provide an example of how you intervened to diffuse the situation, how you approached it with consideration for both yourself and others. For example:

"I could sense that my colleague was irritated and I asked him gently to tell me what he felt the problem was. By allowing him to vent his feelings and his anger, I gave him the opportunity to calm down. I then explained to him my own point of view on the matter, emphasising how important it was that we found a solution that suited us both."

This answer helps us understand what drove your actions and reinforces the feeling that you are considering the needs of others before acting. It provides much more information about you as an individual and is another reason why the STAR approach is so useful.

Step 3 – Result

Explain the positive outcome of your action(s) – how it all ended. Use the opportunity to describe what you accomplished and what you learnt in that situation. This helps you make the answer personal and enables you to highlight further skills.

An example

For example, a strong answer to this capability question might be constructed in the following way:

"Can you tell us of an occasion when you demonstrated strong leadership in order to produce a positive outcome?"

1. Consider an introductory sentence or two about the importance of strong leadership in general terms.
2. Explain what strong leadership looks like to you. Make this personal to you; express an opinion on leadership rather than regurgitate leadership theory.
3. Talk about how you exhibited strong leadership. Draw upon a couple of real life examples which shows good evidence that you have the skills that you say you do.
4. Don't dwell too much on the details of the situation – word count (and time in interviews) is limited; we want to hear about what you did and how you contributed, added value, and drew on your skills, and how your leadership intervention was critical.
5. Discuss how these skills would transfer to the new position you are applying for.

The key in answering all capability questions is that you are required to demonstrate that you have the right skills by using an example (or examples) based on your work or life experience, and not just talk about the topic in a theoretical, general or impersonal manner.

How are capability answers scored?

Answers are scored on a scale of one to seven, with seven being the highest score:

Score	Category	Comment
1	Not demonstrated	No positive evidence
2	Minimal demonstration	Limited positive evidence
3	Moderate demonstration	Moderate positive evidence
4	Acceptable demonstration	Adequate positive evidence
5	Good demonstration	Substantial positive evidence
6	Strong demonstration	Substantial, positive evidence of the capability and includes some evidence of exceeding expectations
7	Outstanding demonstration	Evidence provided wholly exceeds expectation at this level

The minimum benchmark score for each answer is four, but to stand out from the crowd you should be aiming for a score of five or above.

It should be noted that the score is cumulative. This means that if an application is scored over three capability questions, the minimum score needed to be considered for interview will be 12 (three times four). If you score highly on two of the capabilities but poorly on the third, you may still pass the minimum benchmark score of 12.

How we shortlist

We will shortlist your application based on the information you've provided in your application form. If you choose to attach your CV (this is not necessary), please note that your CV is not visible to us at the shortlisting stage.
